INFORMATION WANTED
A Mahogany, an Irishman, who left my house yesterday morning. Had on when he left a top hat and Quaker clothes. He has been deranged for about two years, and probably has left the city. Any one giving information where he is, or will return him to Rufus Jones, will be suitably rewarded.

RHEUMATISM CURED.
Dr. HENRY'S Nerve and Bone Liniment and Indian Vegetable Elixir, is the only certain and effective remedy for Rheumatism, Gout, Contracted Joints, &c. In the most severe cases the application was never known to fail. We have multiplied a volume of testimonials to these, but prefer to have persons call where the cure may be had, and where they can see such proof of its efficacy, that would convince the most incredulous.

REDUCTION FOURFOLD IN PRICES—OR NOTHING.
A article that every family must consider indispensable, when they know its power and use, and which has heretofore been sold too high, is now reduced to its real value. It is now reduced to its real value, with a view that rich and poor, old and young, and in fact every human being may enjoy its benefits, and all who get it shall have the benefit returned to them if they are not delighted with it. We assert, without the possibility of contradiction, that all burns and scalds, every external sore, old or fresh, and all external pains and aches, no matter where, shall be reduced to complete relief in five minutes—saving life, limb or scar. It can be fatal if this is applied, unless the virus is destroyed by the accident. It is truly magical, in appearance, in its effects. Enquire for "Cottrell's Medical Pain Extractor," at Comstock Cor. 21 Courtland street. Price 25 cents, or ten times as much for 50 cents, and ten times as much for $1.

THE SICK HEADACHE.
THIS DISEASE is one from which arises more misery to the human family than is generally supposed, and being directly fatal, it is often neglected, or persons resort so much to the use of purgatives and other medicines as to impair their general health, and often induce fatal diseases. The article—Dr. Spohn's HEADACHE REMEDY, now has its effects to have overcome these difficulties. Its effects are most powerful and immediate, curing an attack or keeping it off, it is so perfectly mild and innocent as to be used for infants with the greatest ease and safety. This has now been tested by so many of the highest members of the community as to require no further proof.

FOR PRESIDENT,
HENRY CLAY, OF KENTUCKY.

SEE FIRST PAGE.

REMOVAL.

The Whig and Courier Office has been removed to the spacious room in the second story of the Kenduskeag Market.

The Augusta Age gives us credit for skill we were quite unconscious of possessing. We had a fit of the blues in thinking that the Whigs in Hancock, Washington, and Aroostook, could have elected their candidate for Congress at the last trial, if, like true patriots, they had attended the polls and deposited their ballots. We felt that these golden opportunities to aid the cause, of the people—by the election of good men, ought never to be suffered to pass without being improved. We felt, for the moment, that the opportunity passed, was gone forever. But the Age has taught us not to despair, but that our prospects are cheering; and that there is a disposition to improve upon the past. We wish we could believe the Age. We wish its prognostics were true, but it sounds so much like the stale cry, so familiar to the Age and kindred prints, that the Whigs are secretly organizing and are thoroughly preparing themselves for action, that we have little confidence in its statements.

The Age attempts to revive its party in the Washington District, and if this effort will only wake up the Whigs, we shall rejoice at the effort. The indifference of the Whigs and the disaffection of their opponents, have caused a stupor to fall upon the people as to political matters, and we think it will be more than the Age or any other paper can do, at this season of the year, to get out a full vote. However we would urge our political friends in that district to throw all the votes they can, and to get ready for taking a vigorous part in the great Whig victory of next autumn, when Henry Clay will be elected President of the United States, by the votes of the people.

The county Liberty convention assembled in this city on Thursday and although there was much personal solicitation to get people to attend the meeting, the number, we are informed, was very small. The proceedings were probably so contrived as to appear well on paper and we have a public promise that we shall have them spread before us to day. Well; if this movement was as likely to advance the cause of human liberty and correct principles and just legislation as that of concentrating all the anti-slavery sentiment in the community to bear upon the two great political parties of the country, we should have nothing of which to complain on account of it. But we think there is a more excellent way. We regret therefore that this new and as we think unfortunate movement should be made and so pertinaciously persisted in.

We are requested by the Judge of the District Court to state, that the term of said Court to be held at Houlton in and for the County of Aroostook, on the third Tuesday of January, will be adjourned to the third Tuesday of February next. Grand and Traverse Jurors need not attend till the day to which said Court is to be adjourned.

We are requested by the publishers of the "Enquirer" to say, that in consequence of removal, setting up their press, etc., they are reluctantly compelled to omit the publication of their paper for this week.

Kidnapping Mormons.

A Springfield correspondent of the St. Louis Republican writes under date of the 19th:—"A messenger was here a few days since from Nauvoo, bringing information that two Mormons had been kidnapped from that place and carried over to the Missouri side of the river. The Governor was called upon to demand these men from the Governor of Missouri, but he refused to make the demand.

Massachusetts Congressional Elections.

According to the returns received from the different districts, it appears that there is a probability of the election of each of the Whig candidates. There is hardly a doubt of the election of Mr. Rockwell in the Seventh Dis-

Hon. Daniel Webster.

The Newark Post says this gentleman has purchased the Weehawken House, a splendid estate, situated about two miles from Hoboken, and probably intends to reside there. The price paid was $25,000.

Another Destructive Fire in N. York.

The large four story brick building, forming the rear part of the extensive down-town establishment of Messrs B. Hoe & Co. the well known machinists, in Gold street, New York, between Fulton and John streets, was destroyed by fire on Tuesday evening, about 10 o'clock, the bare walls only being left standing.

The Legislature of Massachusetts was organized on Wednesday by the choice of Thomas Kinnicutt, Speaker of the House, and Charles W. Storer, Jr., Clerk. In the Senate Josiah Quincy, Jr. was chosen President, and Charles Calhoun, Clerk.

The Mail last evening, contrary to our expectation, did not bring the Governor's Message.

The Washington correspondent of the North American, says that Duff Green, the President's late secret envoy, with whom Lord Aberdeen so disobligingly refused to treat, has come home to set up in New York a Free Trade paper, under the auspices and with the funds (it is supposed) of the British Corn Law League, he having boasted that he had a large sum at his command. He is an agent of a discretion to ruin any cause that he undertakes.

We have abundance of papers by the double mail received last evening, but very little news.

Late from Hayti.

We learn by the Gardner H. Wright, from Port au Prince, that when she sailed a fleet of fourteen or fifteen French vessels of war were lying in that harbor awaiting the payment of the indemnity due France. Such a large fleet indicated a determination to compel payment should the black philosophers at Hayti refuse to pay over the specie quietly, without grumbling.

Fire in Grafton.

The Woolen Mill at Farnumsville, in Grafton, was destroyed by fire on Friday night 29th ult. The machinery was all burnt, and, of some ten or twelve thousand dollars worth of stock on hand, only about thirty pieces of cloth were saved. There was an insurance at the Manufacturers' Mutual Office in this town, on the mill, machinery and stock, of $10,000. The loss, in addition to the amount insured, was probably about $20,000. The insurance policy would have expired the first of January. The fire originated in the spinning room; it is not known how.—Worcester Spy.

Accident.

On Tuesday, 25th ult., Mr. Otis Gilkey, while employed in wheeling wood on board the schooner Friendship, lying at Northport, fell into the hold, and so severely injured himself that he died on Wednesday afternoon following. He fell upon his head and shoulders—but he was able to get out of the hold, and walk some distance, when he complained that "his head ached badly," which were the last words that he spoke. Mr. Gilkey was about 35 years of age, and has left a wife and three or four children to mourn his loss. [Bellast Journal.

Mr. Cooley, in noticing the customs of the present race of Egyptians says: "It is singular how very young the Egyptian peasants marry. Nine or ten for girls, and twelve or fifteen for boys, is considered a marriageable age. Both sexes have so little objection to the conjugal state that they get married as fast and as soon as possible."

CONGRESS.

Correspondence of the Express.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, Jan 3d.

There are rumors of a change in the Cabinet to-day, to the effect that Mr. Spencer will resign—that Mr. Henshaw will be placed at the head of the Treasury Department, and that Mr. Wise will be nominated Secretary of the Navy. All of these rumors need confirmation.

The Select Committee to revise the rules and orders desired to report this morning, but objections were made and the report could not be admitted. Mr. Adams desired to submit the Report, and a majority of the Committee reported in favor of rescinding the Twenty First Rule.

Lucius Lyon, a member from Michigan, appeared this morning, and was qualified.

The House, at an early hour, on motion of Mr. C. J. Ingersoll, went into Committee of the Whole upon the bill to refund the fine imposed upon Gen. Jackson.

Mr. Barnard of New York, opened the debate in a very able speech of an hour. He was against the payment of the fine, and gave his reasons in a lucid and able speech.

Mr. Dawson of Louisiana, replied and was followed by Mr. Kennedy of Indiana. Both speeches were highly eulogistic of General Jackson.

Mr. Gridler of Kentucky, continued the debate. He thought the House had better be engaged in legislating upon the business of the country than in a debate about Gen. Jackson's glory. He did not believe Gen. Jackson would accept the money if it was appropriated, for in so doing he would detract from the good conduct in submitting to the payment of the fine.

The Senate in executive Session to-day, confirmed the nomination of Mr. Upshur as Secretary of State, and Mr. Nelson as Attorney. The other Cabinet officers were not considered.

The credentials of Mr. Pearce, the new Senator from Maryland, were presented this morning, numerous petitions were presented, and two or three to reduce the rate of postage. A resolution was introduced calling upon the Secretary of War for information as to the condition of Michigan Harbor.

Mr. Jarnegan introduced a bill, on leave, to divide the United States into two Military Districts.

Our People and Our Country.

At the commencement of a new year, when mutual congratulations are exchanged between friends, and almost every countenance is illumined by smiles, it may be well to extend our view beyond the narrow circle of our daily walks, and see what sources of exultation are to be found in the general felicity of our country.

We live under a good government—a republican government—free in every sense of the word. The great body of the people are not oppressed or insulted by a powerful king and the minions of despotism—or by a proud and wealthy aristocracy. But every man, whatever his station in life, has a voice in the establishment of our laws—and is, literally speaking, the architect of his own fortune. The accident of birth gives no man an advantage over his fellow man—and the system established in our countries in Europe, of primogeniture, and entail, not being recognized by our laws, the advantage is derived by individuals from hereditary wealth.—The wheel is constantly revolving—and the humble artisan of to-day becomes the rich man of to-morrow—and the son of the capitalist of yesterday becomes stripped of his hereditary riches to-day, and must struggle in the thickest of the crowd for a bare subsistence. Indeed there is no system of government extant, where the rights of all classes of society, are more jealously protected by the laws, or which is better calculated to secure blessings to a people. The government is adapted to the wants of an intelligent and virtuous population—and can be preserved only while the majority remain uncorrupted and intelligent.

If we look abroad among the yeomanry of our country, that numerous and independent body of our citizens, who by their numbers control our public measures, and constitute the solid basis of our population, we shall find a much larger portion of ease, comfort, intelligence and happiness, than will be found in the same class on any other part of the globe. Their habits of industry have been cherished by the protecting hand of a free government; and the constant demand for agricultural productions, which constitute nearly all the necessities of life, secures to the farmer a rich reward for his labors. Rarely, indeed, do we see the farmer pining in want, or even deficient in the comforts of life. In this country there is no lordly landed aristocracy to oppress and trample on the actual cultivator of the soil—but every man is the tiller of his own land—and his house, his fields, his children—all and every thing belonging to him, bear the marks of comfort, independence and contentment. If a person should travel abroad, and be able from actual observation, to contrast the condition of the American farmer with that class of the population in monarchical countries who till the soil, who in England, as well as on the continent of Europe, are mere serfs—aye slaves—he would then be capable of appreciating the blessings enjoyed by the New England farmer, and thank his God that his lot was cast in this land of freedom.

A very considerable portion of our population are engaged in commerce. And the enterprise of the merchants of America is proverbial. The beautiful American flag is seen waving in every port—the proud emblem of liberty—and is respected by every nation. Our ships visit the most remote seas—and return richly laden with the produce of distant climes, and the results of the ingenious labors of almost unknown nations or tribes. And by the extent and prosperous condition of our commerce, a revenue is derived for defraying the expenses of our government.

Owing to the protecting care of a wise government, our manufacturers are in a prosperous condition. This important branch of the business of a people has greatly increased within a few years—and is carried on extensively in almost every town and village in New England. The manufactured productions of this country, are now enormous—and contribute on the one hand to the prosperity of the farmer, by increasing the demand for agricultural productions—and on the other, by freighting our ships with rich goods, to distant ports, they directly tend to promote the mercantile interest. Many domestic manufacturing establishments, which hardly require any capital, and make no figure abroad, are mines of wealth to our happy country—they foster industrious habits—and aid to preserve our people from idleness and its train of evils.

And in every part of our country the active genius of the inhabitants is at work devising means to improve the physical and moral condition of the people—to benefit posterity, as well as the present and the rising generations. Free schools are established in every land, as one of the most successful means of disseminating that useful general knowledge, which is essential to the preservation of a free republic—and the principle is every where acknowledged that education is one of the main pillars of the American Republic. Societies, established on a liberal scale, for advancing the knowledge of agriculture, the mechanic arts, and practical science, are instituted in many parts of the country, and have already produced, and are still producing, a most beneficial effect. In our large cities, our men of wealth cheerfully contribute large sums to encourage literary or scientific enterprise, foster a taste for the fine arts, and relieve the distress incident to poverty or misfortune—and here we see well-regulated associations, composed of numerous individuals, and bountifully supplied with funds, established in every large town or city for the promotion of objects immediately connected with the well-being and happiness of the people.

In all quarters of the United States the means of facilitating communication, are advancing with wonderful rapidity. Post-roads, turnpikes, and canals have multiplied exceedingly during the present century—and now, our country is intersected, and will be soon reticulated with railroads, which seem in some degree to triumph over time and space—which bind the States together with iron bands, in a figurative and literal sense—and which, while they encourage and reward individual enterprise, must do much towards abolishing illiberal feelings and sectional prejudices, and thus strengthen the bond of Union.

Nor are the great principles of morality and religion, without which no free government can long exist, neglected in this country at the present time. The press is exerting its mighty influence in favor of these great objects—and individuals, distinguished for their talents and their goodness, are engaged in every town in inculcating the pure and elevated doctrines of morality, as taught by the Saviour of mankind.

The cause of temperance and humanity is onward—and this nation is already beginning to reap the mighty benefits which will inevitably follow the annihilation of the loathsome vice of intemperance. The inmates of our prisons, our poor houses and our asylums are rapidly diminishing in number—and comfort and hope have entered dwellings which have long been abodes of wretchedness. When we reflect on the magnitude of the benefits, both physical and moral, which will accrue to this country, by the triumph of Temperance, one cannot help wondering that every man, who feels an interest in the welfare of his fellow men, does not assist, both by example and precept, in accomplishing the great work.

And the cause of Religion is onward, too. In this country, religion is not a political machine, designed to strengthen a corrupt or despotic government. It is found in the hearts of the people. Here we have no established church, nor laws compelling the people to support a clergy—and yet, probably, in no country is religious worship on the Sabbath more strictly observed than in New England—and in no country is there a more learned, devoted and faithful ministry. Churches are seen in almost every street, in large cities—and the tall tapering spires, "pointing to the skies," indicate to the passing traveler the site of every village and hamlet. Religious books, and periodicals, and newspapers are scattered broadcast through the land—are eagerly sought for and read, and exert a mighty influence in aid of the efforts of the Preacher, who occupies the sacred desk—and large sums are voluntarily and cheerfully furnished every year, to extend the blessings of the Gospel to other lands, and to aid in various important religious enterprises.

Such is our country. Such are the blessings which we enjoy, and which it is incumbent on every man to cherish and transmit to his children. Public opinion is the great lever which moves the destinies of our country, and every man, however humble his condition, can and will assist in establishing public opinion. It is therefore important that all doctrines and ideas, which tend directly or indirectly to the subversion of sound, moral or religious principles, and social order, should be indignantly rebuked and rejected. A Conservative system should prevail, and opinions and habits which have the venerable sanction of long experience, and which were cherished by our ancestors—which secured their welfare, and gave them the capacity of self-government, should be respected and maintained.—Our government, which will ever take its tone from the character of a people, would thus be wisely administered; and although "the rains might descend, the floods come, and the winds blow," it would stand firm and strong, for "it will be founded on a rock."—Boston Jour.

Mr. Rhet, of S. C. has declined serving on the Select Committee named to report upon the Massachusetts resolutions.

"Up! to our altar, then? Haste! we, and summon Courage and love!—Manhood and woman!" Deep-let our pledges be: TEMPERANCE FOREVER! Truces with Alcohol? Never! no, never!

Persons making, vending or using my Stove without authority, will at once be prosecuted. ISAAC ORR, Boston, Dec. 5, 1843. epia3&cop3t
